A hand-drawn sketch of an expert profile layout. On the left, there are two stacked rectangular boxes. The top box is labeled "image" and the bottom box is labeled "contact expert". To the right of these boxes is a large rectangular area representing the profile details. At the top of this area is a small cyan-colored box with the word "details" inside, which has four small circles at its corners. Below this box are several horizontal lines of varying lengths, representing text input fields or sections of the profile.

A hand-drawn sketch of a sign-in form. It is enclosed in a large rectangular border. At the top, the text "sign in" is centered. Below it, the text "email address" is positioned to the left of a long horizontal rectangular input field. Further down, the text "Password" is positioned to the left of another long horizontal rectangular input field. At the bottom, the text "sign in button" is centered within a horizontal rectangular button shape.
